A message of hope and urgent action

Dear FEJ Family, Friends, and Supporters,

Haiti's children are facing a heartbreaking reality. As violence forces families from their homes, children are losing the safety, stability, education, and loving care they deserve.

For our team on the front lines, this crisis is not just a headline. It is personal—and increasingly urgent. Almost every day, I receive desperate appeals from families seeking a safe place for their children. Behind each message is someone trying to protect a child.

Our promise: Leave no child behind

Today, FEJ is caring for 35 children in our crèche, 10 children in our Intensive Treatment Unit, and 395 students in our school. These are 440 young lives filled with dreams and potential. Yet many more children are waiting for help.

Sabine dreams of becoming a nurse. She also longs for the love and belonging of a permanent family. Her story reminds us that protecting children means more than providing shelter: it means helping them build a future.

Families interested in learning about adoption through the appropriate legal and child-protection processes are welcome to contact FEJ.

Every child deserves to belong. Every dream deserves a chance. Sabine's dream: A family and a future

A meal can change a school day

At our school, children receive a hot breakfast before class and lunch before returning home. For some, these may be their only reliable meals of the day. Food helps children learn, grow, and feel cared for. Through education, nutrition, and medical support, FEJ works to protect both their well-being and their possibilities.

When we nourish a child, we nourish a future

Compassion in action: Thank you, Jen!

Our heartfelt thanks go to Jen Ashmore, with the support of Owen Ashmore and Tommy Hackett, for the inspiring "Mahjong, Mimosas and Muumuus" fundraising initiative. Together, two events raised $20,000 in support of FEJ's mission.

To Jen, the organizers, guests, and donors: thank you for turning generosity into hope and helping us reach more children.

We need all hands-on deck

The need is growing, and our dedicated team cannot respond alone. We need caring hearts, willing hands, strong voices, and partners who believe that no child should be left behind.

Donate. Become a monthly supporter. Host a fundraiser. Introduce a partner. Share our story. Every action helps FEJ provide safety, meals, healthcare, education, and hope.

We may not solve Haiti's crisis overnight, but together we can change a child's tomorrow.

The children are waiting. The time to act is now.

With heartfelt gratitude and unwavering hope,
